

Holly Farm

Walking Trail

The Holly Farm property was originally owned by Donal and Marie Craig, who grew and harvested holly for local sales and export during the early 1900s. The large stand of holly trees that constituted the farm still remains along the southeast edge of the property. Holly Farm abuts Polpis Harbor and is bisected by a salt marsh that leads to an interconnected series of wetlands. There is a short walking trail that leaves from the parking area on Polpis Harbor Road and loops around the salt marsh through grassy fields.

Directions: Drive east on Polpis Road to Wauwinet Road. Take a left on Polpis Harbor Road, which will be on your left immediately before the turn for Wauwinet Road. Just before you reach the harbor, there will be a large parking area on your left.

SAFETY

The Nantucket Land Bank accepts no liability due to injury resulting from use of this map or its properties.

LEAVE NO TRACE

In most cases, there are no trash receptacles provided at these properties, so please help keep our properties clean by taking everything that you brought with you when you leave.

PET OWNERS

Dogs are allowed on beaches and trails but we ask that you please pick up after your dog. There is a leash law on Nantucket.
